

CONGRESS MEETS: GETS ROOSEVELT'S BANK BILL

STATE COURT OF CLAIMS ALLOWS ONLY TWO BILLS

Claims Totalling $300,000 Denied By State Court Today

Springfield, Ill., Mar. 9.—(AP)—Denying claims for a total of $300,000, the Illinois Court of Claims, which hears claims against the state because it cannot be sued, today allowed two awards, and recommended them to the General Assembly for appropriation.

An award of $1,750 was awarded to Lucinda J. Allen, mother of Edgar M. Allen, who was fatally injured in 1930 while working as a laborer on a state road near Murphysboro. A truck crushed him under the wheels. The other award allowed was $500 to Harris Dante for unpaid salary as secretary of the State Commission on Election Laws in 1931.

Pursuant to a stipulation secured by the Attorney General, the court dismissed a claim of Strensenreuter Brothers of Chicago and officially terminated the Florence bridge controversy. As contractor for the bridge sub-structure, the company became involved in delays because of high water and unexpected under-water conditions and the bridge was delayed. The state finally cancelled the contract and the job was finished by a surety company.

Widow's Claim Denied

The $10,000 claim of Harriet L. Thompson, administratrix of the estate of Ward E. Thompson of Rockford, a former member of the Pardon and Parole Board was dismissed. Although he was a state employee and engaged in performing his duties, the court held the claim did not come under any statute authorizing an award. His occupation was not extra-hazardous under the workmen's compensation law, the court held.

Another claim denied was one for $8,000 filed by Lillian Sturrock administratrix of the estate of Alexander Sturrock. 14. The boy, who was feeble minded and an inmate of the Lincoln state school, and colony, was severely scalded when bathed by another inmate. The court held the state is not responsible for the negligence of its employees or agents.

Judges of the court are A. J. Clarity, Freeport; B. F. Thomas, Fairfield; and Clifford G. Roe, of Chicago.

FOUR AMERICANS PROTEST AGAINST NAZI TREATMENT

State Department Has Asked Hitler About Mistreatment

Washington, March 9.—(AP)—The State Department disclosed today that it has asked the German government to make known to the German government through Ambassador Sackett against reported indignities and violence involving American citizens.

In reply the German government expressed its keen regret and gave assurances that every measure would be taken to prevent similar occurrences.

The cases were understood to have arisen from disorders in connection with the recent election in which the National Socialist or Nazi party, headed by Adolf Hitler, was given commanding power. Four incidents were reported involving American citizens. The individuals named were Henry H. Sattler, Edwin P. Dakin, Nathaniel S. Wolf, and Max Schussler. Two distinct protests were made, and after the second the German Foreign Office said the matter had been called to the personal attention of the Chancellor and each member of his cabinet.

DAZZLING SPEED BIG CONGRESS IS AIM OF LEADERS

Enactment of Emergency Banking Law Before Night Is Sought

Washington, March 9.—(AP)—Dazzlingly swift enactment of President Roosevelt's first remedies for banking troubles was the goal today of the Seventy-third Congress, called into extraordinary session for extraordinary purposes.

When the gavel cracked at 11 A. M. (CST.) both House and Senate had some preliminary organization work to do. But the leaders of both—including Senator Robinson of Arkansas and Speaker Rainey—rushed this toward completion to pass before quitting work today Mr. Roosevelt's plan for a new issue of currency based on government bonds, which are redeemable in gold.

Except for perfunctory ratification of committee states and election of Senator Pittman, Nevada, as president pro tempore, the Senate already had fully organized to begin work immediately. Mid-afternoon previously had been fixed for it to take up impeachment of Federal Judge Harold Louderback of California, for alleged mishandling of receivership cases, but this preliminary procedure, too, takes only a few minutes.

House Work Slower

About two hours were set aside by the House to elect Representative Henry T. Rainey of Illinois as Speaker and to set up its emergency committee machinery. After organizing, Congress usually waits a day before receiving the President's message. That was today's program, for even before his message arrived Mr. Roosevelt's friends on Capitol Hill were working to assure passage of his banking proposals. They sought after that, to give him the power he wanted to reorganize the government and reduce costs more than he could under the law.

The President worked until after midnight explaining his program to Democratic and Republican congressional leaders. After that conference was over, Robinson and Rainey issued a joint statement on the banking bill saying:

Expect Passage Today "It is the opinion of all in the conference that the bill will be passed through both Houses tomorrow and will result in the opening of a large number of banks on Friday."

Earlier, however, Senator McNary of Oregon, the new Republican leader, who attended last night's conference, had promised full cooperation but said he would insist upon the President's recommendations going to the Banking committee under the new chairmanship of the veteran Duncan U. Fletcher (D. Fla.). The Democrats have 58 members in the new Senate and 312 in the House, majorities sufficient almost to do as they please—barring, of course, the formation of blocs. But leaders do not look for such things in the emergency period at least. Then, too, Senate Democrats have adopted a rigid rule under which a majority of a caucus of two-thirds of the 58 Democrats binds the party to support an executive proposal.

Money Order Dept. At P. O. Very Busy

The busiest department of the post office in many years is the postal money order department. The patronage of this window compares favorably to that of the general delivery windows in the Christmas holiday season. The banking holiday or moratorium has created a record demand for the postal money orders, by both merchants and citizens as a means of exchange. The business in this department this week has set a new record for the local office it was reported today.

Postmaster Moyer stated this morning that the postal savings department was not experiencing any particularly increased activity during the moratorium, as has been the experience in many postoffices throughout the country.

Morton Hale, pastor of the Congregational church. Entombment will be in the Oakwood Memorial Mausoleum.

CERMAK'S ASSASSIN PLEADS GUILTY TO MURDER TODAY: EXPRESSES NO REGRET: CHICAGO CONTINUES TRIBUTE TO MAYOR

Zangara Faces Death In Chair; Tells Of Shooting

Miami, Fla., March 9.—(AP)—Giuseppe Zangara today pleaded guilty to charges of murdering Mayor Anton J. Cermak of Chicago when his mad attempt to assassinate President Roosevelt here February 15 failed.

Zangara's plea was entered by Louis F. Twyman, chief of the counsel appointed for him after Zangara himself had said, in response to a query as to guilt by State's Attorney N. Vernon Hawthorne:

"I want to kill the President. I want to kill all kings and presidents." Zangara apparently started on a lengthy discourse but was halted by Twyman.

The latter said his client would plead guilty to the first count of an indictment returned Monday by a special convened grand jury if the second count was dropped.

The first count charged Zangara with killing Mayor Cermak as he tried to kill the President. The second charged premeditated murder of Cermak.

Judge Heard Evidence

Tom Armour of Miami was called as the first witness as Judge Thompson heard evidence according to Florida law, before passing sentence on the assassin.

Zangara already has been sentenced to 80 years imprisonment on his plea of guilty to charges of attempting to murder the President and three of the persons his bullets struck.

Armour told his story of attempting to divert Zangara's aim when the latter fired his pistol five times in Bay Front Park.

The second witness, Miss Dixie Herlong, a court reporter, testified about taking Zangara's statement, delivered she said, "in a reasonably calm way" the night of the shooting.

Zangara said, Miss Herlong testified, "that he attempted to kill President Roosevelt because he didn't like presidents and capitalists."

Zangara On Stand

Zangara himself took the stand after the state closed its case.

"I'm 33," he testified, "born in Italy. I came here first September ten years ago and live in New Jersey. I live there three four months since July."

"I want to kill all capitalists. Because of capitalist people get no bread. That's important thing—no money. I feel this way since I 14 years old. x x x 'I have stomach pains since I six years old. I not mad at my father but I mad at capitalists. They got education."

"Are you mad at anybody now?" Twyman asked.

"No, except I mad at capitalists all time—I not mad at jailers or at anybody here."

"x x x I don't belong church. I don't believe in God."

Described Shooting

Zangara described the actual shooting and said Mrs. W. F. Cross of Miami knocked his arm and diverted his aim as he tried to shoot Mr. Roosevelt.

"I tried to shoot Mr. Roosevelt before, when he talk, but lots of people in my road and I can't do it. x x x I feel I have a right to kill him. I feel that many years. x x x I know they give me electric chair but I don't care—I'm right."

"x x x I don't make no difference who I kill—I kill Mr. Hoover or Mussolini if I see them first. 'Are you sorry you shot the other people?' Twyman asked. 'I sorry I no shot Roosevelt. 'Do you want to tell the court anything?' 'No.' x x x 'I kill Mr. Roosevelt if he comes in this room now.' Zangara said in response to a question from State's Attorney N. Vernon Hawthorne: 'Would you kill Mr. Hoover?' 'No, he's not President now.'"

A half million Chicagoans stood along the line of the procession when Mayor Anton J. Cermak, victim of an assassin in Miami, Fla., was brought home for burial. The hearse carrying his casket is shown passing NEA—Chicago Bureau

Immediate Action To Reopen Sound Banks Asked By Pres. Roosevelt In Message Today

Washington, March 9.—(AP)—President Roosevelt in his message to Congress today proposed immediate opening of all sound banks and provisions for currency expansion during the banking reorganization.

"I can not too strongly urge upon the Congress the clear necessity for immediate action," he declared today.

He will request of Congress at "an early moment" two other measures which he regards as of "immediate urgency."

It was understood in Capitol quarters that these would refer to granting him power to cut federal expenses drastically including those for veterans and also for getting to work on a huge public building program to provide employment.

"It is my belief," the President told Congress in a message of 500 words "that this legislation (banking legislation) will not only lift immediately all unwarranted doubt and suspicion in regard to banks which are 100 per cent sound, but will also mark the beginning of a new relationship between the banks and the people of this country."

Text Of Message

The text follows: "To the Senate and House of Representatives: "On March 3 banking operations in the United States ceased. To review at this time the causes of this failure of our banking system is unnecessary. Suffice it to say that the government has been compelled to step in for the protection of depositors and the business of the nation."

Asks Immediate Action

"In order that the first objective—the opening of banks for the resumption of business—may be accomplished, I ask of the Congress the immediate enactment of legislation giving to the executive branch of the government control over banks for the protection of depositors; authority forthwith to open such banks as have already been ascertained to be in sound condition and other such banks as rapidly as possible; and authority to reorganize and reopen such banks as may be found to require reorganization to put them on a sound basis."

"I ask amendments to the Federal Reserve Act to provide for such additional currency, adequately secured, as it may become necessary."

Banks In Brief

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Seventy-third Congress is called in extraordinary session today to enact legislation to relieve "immediately" the bank situation.

Federal Reserve Bank call upon member banks for names of all persons who have withdrawn gold since February 1 and who have not redeposited it before March 13, hint that names of gold hoarders will be made public is seen in action.

Leaders of both House and Senate predict prompt passage today of emergency bank bill.

President Roosevelt issues early morning statement, following conference at White House, saying the measure before Congress today "will at once start banking operations throughout the entire country."

Plan for national scrip abandoned as Bureau of Engraving works in three shifts turning out additional Federal Reserve currency which is believed to be basis of proposed legislation.

The new currency will not have gold backing, but is to be issued on the same basis as Treasury notes, which are backed by government bonds.

Chairman Steagall of House Bank committee believes national banks will be first to open, with state banks following.

Secretary Woodin authorizes local clearing houses throughout country issue scrip if needed.

Treasury Department prohibits execution of plan of Gov. Lehman, New York, to issue scrip through a statewide corporation of which Alfred E. Smith had been named chairman.

Many banks open throughout country, with functions limited under holiday order.

Appeal for "national unity" is made in simultaneous proclamations issued by the Governors of the states.

Steps are taken in Nebraska toward declaring an insurance moratorium.

An estimated million dollars worth of scrip circulates freely in Nashville, Tenn., on first day of issuance.

State banks of Minnesota are permitted to extend operations today by issue of scrip.

Laws already on statute books permit issuance of new currency to the amount of three billion dollars.

A bill for a moratorium on all debts, public and private, for 90 days, is killed in Arkansas Senate.

Winthrop W. Aldrich, head of the Chase National Bank, offers a plan to divorce commercial and investment phases of banking.

In general, foodstuffs prices remained about the same; pork prices dropped in Chicago yesterday after earlier rise.

President Roosevelt said early today: "I am gratified at the outlook."

IRONCLAD CASE AGAINST DENVER KIDNAPING GANG

Arrest Of Last Two Of Eight Is Expected Before Evening

Denver, March 9.—(AP)—The police case against six suspects in the Charles Boettcher, 2nd, kidnaping has become "ironclad," Chief of Police Albert T. Clark announced today.

The Chief also predicted that officers on the trail of two of the six not yet in custody would effect their capture before the day and passed. The two sought are Vene Sankey and Gordon Elkhorn, believed by Clark to be fleeing into Canada. Two women and two men are in jail here. Federal kidnaping charges have been filed against all six.

Information which caused Chief Clark to state he had an "ironclad" case, he said, came from Arthur Youngberg, alleged member of the kidnap band, captured at a ranch house allegedly owned by Sankey near Chamberlain, S. Dak. Police said Youngberg was the guard who watched the 31-year-old wealthy broker in the basement at the Sankey ranch during the 16-day period in which negotiations for $50,000 ransom were completed.

Recognized Voice

Youngberg and Boettcher were brought together in the Chief's office just after the seclusion of the pioneer Colorado family had come from a hospital where his wife had given birth to a baby daughter, their second child.

"Boettcher closed his eyes tight when I asked Youngberg questions," Clark said in describing the scene. "When he heard Youngberg's voice he lunged forward as if to throttle him, but was restrained by another police officer and myself."

Lumber Yard At Capital Burned

Springfield, Ill., Mar. 9.—(AP)—The plant of the Peter Vrendenburgh Lumber Company was a mass of charred and smouldering ruins today following a fire which officials said caused a loss of $250,000.

Firemen fought for several hours last night before confining the raging blaze and preventing it from spreading to other nearby buildings and oil tank cars.

National Guardsmen left their patrols in the mining section and assisted police in holding the crowd of spectators, estimated at 10,000, back from the line of danger.

REOPENING OF NATION'S BANKS SOON, PURPOSE

Passage Of Measure By Nightfall Aim Of Democrats

Washington, March 9.—(AP)—Congress moved this afternoon upon the petition of President Roosevelt to empower him to reopen "sound banks" and to authorize tremendous currency expansion.

Spurred by his call for "immediate action," Senate and House alike set about writing into law a revision of banking statutes among the most extensive in history.

Even while his brief message was being read to crowded galleries in both chambers, the highest financial and legislative authorities were at work behind locked doors putting the finishing touches on the all-embracing bill.

As advocated by the President, it would give him sweeping authority over banking and gold movements in any emergency.

"Sound Banks" May Open It would permit only "sound banks" to reopen at once, those unable to show conclusively their soundness being administered during reorganization by government "conservators."

The stockholders and the Comptroller of the Currency would have to join in approving the reorganization before the bank could be turned back to its board of directors.

The bill would authorize issuance of new currency against government bonds, notes, drafts, bills of exchange and bankers' acceptances.

The bill would ratify the executive orders issued by the President and continue his authority over the banking situation; provide for concentration of the nation's gold supply in the Federal Reserve banks, penalize hoarding; and provide for controlled expansion of the currency.

Glass Fathers Bill

The bill was introduced by Senator Glass (D. Va.). Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, said he was convinced the bill was sound and that it "passed today will assure the opening of many banks both national and state on tomorrow that are now closed."

Senate leaders planned to submit the measure immediately to committee after organization of the Senate with a view to reporting it back within an hour or two and passing it in time for House action today.

"The bill," Robinson said, "ratifies the orders and proclamations heretofore issued by the President and Secretary of the Treasury, penalizes hoarding, requires member banks to pay to the Federal Reserve bank gold bullion or gold certificates issued by such member banks and to receive therefor coin or currency, and attaches heavy penalties for non-compliance."

"Among other provisions the measure authorizes reorganizations under careful safeguards, and for a period of segregation of new deposits in banks of a certain class, the new deposits so segregated to be subject to withdrawals as the Comptroller may permit."

Expansion Provided "There is provision for reasonable and controlled expansion of the currency, based on government bonds and assets and the issuance of Federal Reserve bank notes."

In its provision extending the President's power, the bill provides that in time of war or other national emergency declared by the President, he may regulate transactions in foreign exchange, transfers of credit between banking institutions, export, hoarding, melting or earmarking of gold or silver.

HORNER DELAYS SIGNING STATE REPEALER BILLS

Indicates, However, He Will Approve In Short Time

Chicago, March 9.—(AP)—Legislative measures providing for repeal of the Illinois state prohibition laws were placed today in the hands of Governor Henry Horner.

The Governor announced he had not decided when he would affix his signature to the bills, passed recently by the state legislature, but indicated it would be soon.

Progress of bills in the legislature to regulate the sale of liquor in the event of modification or repeal of national prohibition was said to have removed most of the Governor's objections.

Horner has announced he would sign the repeal bills, but not until assured of the passage of regulatory measures.

A conference between Governor Horner and Ernest Palmer, State Superintendent of Insurance, ended at 5:30 A. M. today and the Governor retired for a few hours rest.

The conference was to be resumed at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon. Horner would not comment on the matters under consideration pending further discussions.

The Governor said no plans for returning to Springfield would be made until after Mayor Anton J. Cermak's funeral tomorrow.

NEW PLAN FOR FARMERS TO BE GIVEN CONGRESS

Sec. Wallace To Ask Action During Current Session

Washington, March 9.—(AP)—The first session of Congress under the Roosevelt administration—like the special session called by President Hoover four years ago—will be asked to pass on a new plan to help the farmer.

The prime purpose of the session beginning today, though, is emergency financial legislation, so Secretary Wallace and other framers of the proposed farm relief program will not seek action until that is out of the way.

As Wallace and the new Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, Dr. Rexford Tugwell, today sought unified support of farm organization representatives, there were indications that the present Congress will receive for its consideration a program considerably different from the Farm Board stabilization relief measure enacted by the Republicans and now headed for the discard.

As outlined by Secretary Wallace, the new measure combines elements of the domestic allotment plan with a scheme for leasing the farm lands to retire them from surplus production of wheat, cotton, corn and possibly tobacco later on.

It is Wallace's aim to have the proposal enacted into law by March 15, if possible, so it may become effective for this crop year. He said he regards farm economic conditions such as to justify legislation on an emergency basis.

Many angles of the new plan remain to be determined.

Chicago—The contract for reinsurance of the $75,000 policy holders of the Illinois Life Insurance Company awarded the Associated Mutuals of Boston must be presented March 20 for court approval, Judge John B. Barnes ordered in the absence of Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson.

William Russell, colored, of this city, was again reposing in the county jail today. He was taken in custody this morning by Patrolmen Seagrave and Fischer, following the issuance of a warrant by Police Magistrate A. E. Simonson in which Scott Hull charged the disturbance of the peace. Russell was alleged to have created a disturbance at Hull's soft drink parlor last night.

At the hearing this morning the Police Magistrate threatened to impose a fine upon the complainant for contempt of court and heated words were exchanged during the progress of the hearing, which culminated when Russell was fined $10 and costs, in default of which he was remanded to the county jail.

Tazewell Co. Cars Are Using New Fuel

Pekin—Autos in Tazewell county were driven with fuel containing 10 per cent alcohol at the request of Treasury Department officials. The alcohol was made locally from corn grown in the county after Paul Beshers, El Paso, Ill., developed the formula as a means of utilizing corn surplus.

F. F. McNaughton, Pekin publisher, used the first tank full.

WANTED SATISFACTION

Houston, Tex. — M. L. Mowrey desired more satisfaction than just seeing the man who held him up sentenced to prison. After he had identified Stewart Mowrey settled his score by blacking his eye. Because of this act he was arrested for assault.

FEDERAL AGENT HERE IN PROBE OF AUTO THEFT

Accompanied By North-Western Railroad Special Agent

F. W. VanWagner, agent from the U. S. Department of Justice headquarters in Chicago, and Special Agent Stanley Sonnenberg of the NorthWestern of Chicago were in Dixon yesterday afternoon on business with Sheriff Fred Richardson. Their visit was in connection with the recovery of a stolen automobile at Nelson Saturday which led to the arrest and apprehension of Dolena Smith, North-Western freight brakeman, who is being held at the county jail.

Davenport, Ia., Mar. 9.—Two men were in Federal custody in Davenport today as the members of an automobile theft ring and a third was understood to be sought.

Those under arrest are: Walter Dobson, alias Clark, 30 years old, and John Wiggall, alias Hansen, 28, both of Chicago.

The third name was withheld to permit the serving of an arrest warrant. Others may be picked up later, it has been intimated.

Dobson and Wiggall were bound over to the Federal district court under bonds of $3,000. They were unable to furnish the bonds. Both pleaded not guilty.

Harry Finch, proprietor of a garage on the Lincoln highway near the Clinton where two of the stolen cars were reported to have been found, and was arrested by Federal authorities, was released because of lack of evidence.

Held Nearly A Week

Those in custody have been held for nearly a week while Sheriff Cooke of Clinton county and his aids continued their investigation. M. F. Glynn of the U. S. department of justice was in Davenport today to press the prosecution under the Dyer automobile theft act, claimed to have been violated in the interstate transportation of the machines.

Three cars have been recovered in all, including one at Dixon, Ill. In the seizure at "Finch's Corners," it was said that tools found were believed to have been used for the changing of motor numbers, including an electric drill. Dobson is said to have had in his possession a set of steel dies, such as are used to mark numbers.

that other thousands might view it. A location in the center of the ground floor lobby was selected.

The three day observance was to reach its height beginning at 10 A. M. Friday when the funeral procession slowly moves from the city hall to the Chicago Stadium where ministers of three faiths and Gov. Henry Horner will eulogize the man.

Col. C. B. Hodges already has arrived in the city as the personal representative of the President and the national government. Mayors of other cities, including Frank Hague of Jersey City, close friend of Cermak, are expected to attend.

From the Stadium the body is scheduled to go to its final rest in Bohemian National cemetery. It will lie beside that of Mrs. Cermak in the family vault.

Kept All Night Vigil

Keeping an all night vigil at the side of the coffin last night were the Mayor's daughter, Mrs. Helen Cermak Kenley and her husband, Floyd Kenley, and his favorite grand-daughter, Miss Vivian Graham.

Tomorrow night Democrats said they planned to pause for a few hours in their mourning to meet with Gov. Horner to discuss the task of filling the Mayor's chair.

Opinion today was reported as divided. Some were said to favor election of a temporary mayor by the city council while others urged vesting power in Cermak's unofficial "cabinet" of four department heads. Final decision, one report said, would be left to the Democratic county council in an effort to preserve the unity of the party.

CZAR IDEA IS SPREADING TO WALL ST. NOW

Dictator For Foreign Exchange Operations Proposed

New York, March 9.—(AP)—The "czar" idea is spreading to all places—Wall Street.

Long ago baseball decided to get itself a czar in the person of Kenesaw Mountain Landis. The movies have one in Will Hays, whose way is mighty in many cinema matters.

Now the street that is known the world over as the main lane of the big money world is hearing talk of a dictator.

He would be a referee to adjust the delicate operations of foreign exchange transactions during the present emergency. Many men of the financial community believe Wall Street is prepared to accept him.

The word "czar" is not officially used. Bankers shy from it in this connection. It is believed, however, that a central office to pass on for foreign exchange operations would necessarily involve the granting of wide powers.

The proposal was under wide discussion yesterday. It was pointed out that a program of this character would be in line with measures adopted during the World War. At that time Fred I. Kent, vice president of the Bankers Trust Company, was lent by his institution to function as a foreign exchange "czar."

The project has not gone so far as naming any specific individual. It is understood, however, that headquarters for such a design would probably be in the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, and that the bank might conceivably take over the direction of such functions.

IMMEDIATE ACTION TO REOPEN SOUND BANKS

necessary to issue to meet all demands for currency and at the same time to achieve this end without increasing the unsecured indebtedness of the government of the United States.

"I can not too strongly urge-upon the Congress the clear necessity for immediate action. A continuation of the strangulation of banking facilities is unthinkable. The passage of the proposed legislation will end this condition and I trust within a short space of time will result in a resumption of business activities.

Will Lift Doubts

"In addition, it is my belief that this legislation will not only lift all unwarranted doubts and suspicions in regard to banks which are one hundred per cent sound, but will also mark the beginning of a new relationship between the banks and the people of this country.

"The members of the new Congress will realize, I am confident, the grave responsibility, which lies upon me and upon them.

"In the short space of five days it is impossible for us to formulate completed measures to prevent the recurrence of the evils of the past. This does not and should not, however justify any delay in accomplishing this first step.

"At an early moment I shall request of Congress two other measures which I regard as of immediate urgency. With action taken thereon we can proceed to the consideration of a rounded program of national restoration.

He would also be authorized to require any person engaged in any such transactions to furnish under oath complete information relative to the transactions and books or contracts.

Severe Penalties

A penalty of $10,000 fine or 10 years imprisonment is provided for violations.

The emergency bill would permit banks to get circulating notes from the Federal Reserve System in return for United States obligations, notes, drafts, bills of exchange and bankers acceptances.

Notes would be given the banks to the full value of the United States obligations and 90 per cent of the sound value of the notes.

Notes would be receivable at par in all parts of the United States "and for the same purposes as are national bank notes" and would be redeemable in lawful money. They would be subject to the same tax as is provided by law for circulating notes of national banks secured by two per cent bonds.

The bill provides that in "exceptional circumstances" when member banks have no further eligible assets, the Reserve Bank may make advances to them on time or demand notes secured to the satisfaction of the Reserve Bank.

An appropriation of $2,000,000 is carried in the bill to be expended by the President in carrying out its provisions.

Modifying a law passed by Congress at the last session, the bill would authorize Reserve banks to make direct loans to individuals, partnerships or corporations with permission of the Reserve Board on promissory notes secured by direct obligations of the United States.

26 Million Auto-Owners Will Be Interested In This New Invention

Dayton, O.—During a recent meeting of Fire Protection Engineers in this city, a new device lately developed for extinguishing Automobile, Truck and Bus Fires was demonstrated. Those who witnessed the demonstration were amazed to see a gasoline blaze shooting six feet high extinguished in thirty seconds. This handy device can be attached to the steering post of any car. The head of the company manufacturing this new device states that the demand for this new product far exceeds all expectations and that his company, which also manufactures Fire Extinguishers for Homes, Schools, Stores, Farms, etc., is now appointing local salesmen where they are not represented at the present time. This new invention will help the employment situation as thousands of appointments will be made. Any reader of this paper who has a fair acquaintance will have first chance to secure this appointment as only a local citizen will be selected. Write to Ray C. Hahn, Sales Manager, Box 983, Dayton, Ohio, and he will send full details of the new product and the position which should enable any reliable man to earn up to $250.00 a month. Auto fires are on the increase and every Auto, Truck, and Bus Owner should be protected with one of these new devices. Many states have laws which compel passenger-carrying autos and trucks to install devices of this kind.

COUNTRY FACES SUSPENSION OF SPECIE PAYMENT

Little Doubt Payments Of Gold Will Not Be Permitted

New York, March 9.—(AP)—The most exciting chapters in financial history concern the expedients—sometimes desperate—to which rulers and governments have resorted to restore public confidence. Suspension of specie payments, one of the most significant angles of the present vivid chapter in America's financial experience, is the situation which the country now faces as a result of President Roosevelt's edict ordering a bank holiday.

In fact there is little doubt but that gold payments will be suspended for a time after the banking holiday is lifted, according to well informed opinion in Wall Street.

In curbstome language, specie means coined money. The man in the street, ignorant of the intricacies of the gold system, does realize, however, that when specie payments are abandoned something is wrong in the financial system, for he can no longer translate his gold certificates into metal of a similar hue.

Contrasting Picture

A sharply contrasting picture is presented when the reasons which prompted the present holiday on gold payments are tabulated alongside the problem which faced the country 70 years ago, when suspension of specie payments loomed large.

The suspension of payments then had its genesis in the Civil War itself. While the cause today may be traced indirectly and historically to the excesses growing out of the unbridled expansion period following the World War, the real and immediate cause, asserted banking executives, was the growing and unreasoning hysteria of the people at large, leading to active exporting of gold, and withdrawing it for hoarding.

Withstood Foreigners

Bankers had asserted repeatedly in the last year and a half that the country could stand any conceivable foreign run on our gold supply, and in fact it did stand the greatest gold run ever experienced by any country between September, 1931, and June, 1932. But when Americans, themselves actively began withdrawing gold in the past month, measures had to be taken.

Nevertheless, the country still has some $3,000,000,000 of monetary gold within its borders, or more than a third of the world's total supply. This means, say banking authorities, that the fundamental problem today is to apply proper emotional sedatives to permit the normal functioning of gold once more.

PLAY A MAN'S PART.

In every grave crisis in the nation's history the American people have displayed courage, loyalty and sound common sense. We have no doubt the present crisis, which is as grave as any the nation ever faced, will be met in the same spirit. To summon this spirit of common sense and to apply it to the present situation, it is essential that the American people as a whole understand, in its simplest terms, the relationship of credit and actual currency to the successful operation of a complex modern civilization such as ours.

There exists in the entire country a total of slightly more than $6,000,000,000 of currency. There are in our financial institutions deposits amounting roughly to something under $50,000,000,000. There is, therefore, in the American financial structure $6,000,000,000 of actual currency upon which is based something over $40,000,000,000 of credit. Under no conceivable circumstances could the country operate on a CURRENCY basis alone. All important services, many of them essential to life, would stop without credit. Food could not be transported, fuel shipments would stop. Public utilities would cease to function and protection for life and property would vanish.

During the last week, with moratoria going into effect in all the neighboring states and rapidly spreading throughout the country, there was abundant justification for the withdrawal of sufficient funds to meet family necessities during the brief period when it seemed probable the banks in Chicago would be closed. Banks, however, will be reopened on Friday, and it is then that both common sense and self-preservation dictate that all combine to reestablish credit and insure that the banks will remain open and function for the public safety and the common good.

While it is true that in this crisis we confront no armed enemy from without, we face a foe EVEN MORE DEADLY if we fail to maintain the bulwark of stable credit. In war we have a phrase which describes running away in the midst of a battle. It is "cowardice in the face of the enemy." This is the most serious offense a soldier can commit. In the present war against economic chaos the man who withholds currency from circulation is likewise guilty of cowardice in the face of the enemy. And the penalty is that he helps to bring DISASTER upon himself and his neighbors. The man who withholds cash now is guilty of the same kind of folly as the man who withholds his ammunition under attack from an armed enemy.

Under the terms of the president's proclamation of Sunday night, issued under the authority of a war measure, hoarding of currency is forbidden. Every patriotic citizen will heed the ORDER of the commander in chief in this battle against depression.

Beyond peradventure when the banks reopen next Friday, provision will have been made for the SAFETY and 100 per cent liquidity of every dollar thereafter deposited in the banks. Such arms will be subject to complete withdrawal IF NECESSARY. The insurance of safety for every depositor lies in the credit of the United States government, and the faith of the individual citizens in the perpetuity of the United States. Both will be pledged. THE PLAIN DUTY of every American citizen is to join hands with his neighbors, put his trust in the government and play a man's part in repelling the enemy, FEAR, which alone threatens our common security. —Chicago Daily News.

THE WAY OF THE LAW.

A Cleveland man was convicted of arson not long ago, a jury having been convinced that he caused a factory building to be set ablaze. A few days ago an appellate court reversed his conviction and ordered a new trial. It based the reversal on several points, among them the fact that the defendant was charged and sentenced erroneously, under the Ohio law.

The charge, as the court points out, was arson; and the law defines arson as the unlawful burning of a dwelling. The building involved in this case was not a dwelling but a factory. Hence the charge of arson was improper, and the man gets a new trial.

This little item is offered, without comment, for the benefit of uninstructed laymen who sometimes wonder what that expression, "the law's technicalities," really means.

If prohibition is repealed, it will only be a few years until the people will again retore it.—Dr. Howard H. Russell, 77, who founded the Anti-Saloon League 40 years ago.

Anyone who claims to be a first-class public man must be prepared to meet a tragic death. Praise be for the men who may attempt my life if their motive is to die for their country.—Dr. Yukio Ozaki, noted Japanese pacifist and former minister of justice.

Freedom of thought and freedom of speech in every country are necessary before the people of one land can understand the ideals and ambitions of their neighbors. Dr. Thomas S. Baker, president of Carnegie Institute of Technology, speaking in Berlin.

"Ah, Mister Beetle you are through. How easily I lassoed you," exclaimed the cowboy spider. "Now, don't try to get away."

"My web rope's holding you real tight and you're a funny looking sight. That's what you get for keeping all the Tynnies from their play."

"When'er you're bad, instead of good, and you do not do the things you should you'll get right into trouble. Let this be a lesson, sir."

"I am afraid to let you go because I really do not know just what you'll do. I think it's best to keep you prisoner."

"Oh, no!" exclaimed the beetle. "Gee, you're being very mean to me. I only chased the Tynnymites to have a little fun."

"They are so small, with legs so short, I thought it would be lots of sport to give the lads a scare. I knew that it would make them run."

Then Scouty said, "The beetle's right. I'll bet we were a funny sight. But, ere we turn him free, let's make him give us all a ride."

"His great, big wings look very strong and we have seen him move along. Why, underneath one of his wings I'm sure that I could hide."

"Hurray, for you," the beetle said. "Just free me and I'll go ahead and do just as you tell me to. I feel real friendly, now."

"If you lads want a ride that's rare. I'll take you high up in the air. I'll bet you'll be so frightened you'll have frown lines on your brow."

"Oh, no," said Windy. "I am game." Then from the web the beetle came. "Hop on my back," he shouted, "and away we'll gallop."

So Windy, being brave and bold, stepped up and did as he was told. The beetle spread his wings and all the Tynnies laughed, "Ho, ho!" (Duncy falls into a trap in the next story.)

WEEKLY SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

MINISTRATIONS OF JESUS

By WILLIAM E. GILROY

From the miracles of healing and restoration to life, we turn now to the miracle of feeding the multitudes. Here again it is useless to seek either to explain the miracle or to explain it away. If we could explain it, it would be no miracle, and it stands in the record as a part of the marvelous story of the wonderful life of Jesus. For us its significance is in its symbolism of the power of Jesus to feed the soul. He is the Bread of Life, and what he offers is abundant for the satisfaction of all human hunger.

In its spiritual interpretation, the story of the miracle of the feeding of the five thousand becomes very plain and significant. What is described as happening in connection with the few loaves and fishes is exactly what happens in the realm of spiritual food. The more of it we give, the more we have, and the more we share, the more it increases. We do not always appreciate that fact, but it is the miracle of grace.

The economy of the Kingdom of Heaven is an economy of abundance. It is in service that we find mastery over their own soul and over the souls of their fellow men. It is in sacrifice that they find strength and new resources. It is in passing on to others all that God has given them that they find an increase in their own heritage of spiritual worth and truth.

This was the supreme greatness of Jesus. Above all others he had discovered the power to give and through this consecration to the Father's will God gave "not the spirit by measure unto him." A significant phrase concerning Jesus is that he "emptied himself," and in this emptying himself of all that earth might have valued, he revealed to the world the fullness of the divine character and grace.

Thus it is that Jesus taught his disciples, and teaches us, that it is not by a selfish attitude in which we expect to receive that we grow strong and partake of the character of God; it is not by having others minister to us; but it is by ministering to others that we attain the true life. "The son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister and to give his life a ransom for many."

The deepest note in Jesus, as he

TESTING HEARING

Testing the sense of hearing is a rather difficult task.

It is hard, for example, to establish whether an individual is lying about the extent of injury to his hearing suffered, say, in an accident.

However, in the case of a person pretending that he is totally deaf, one may detect his deceit by making a sudden loud noise behind him and watching for a surprise reaction.

The real problem of testing hearing is not in connection with such cases. More important is the early detection of deafness in school children.

To this end there has been developed an interesting instrument called the audiometer.

The instrument is simple and its application can be easily learned by the school nurse or school teacher. The tests are standardized and are but little affected by extraneous circumstances. The instrument may be used to test as many as 40 at one time.

Essentially, the audiometer consists of a phonograph fitted with a magnetic pick-up, which transmits sound to a number of single head phones.

A record is "played." The sounds received through the head phones, which each child places over its ears, consist of four series of 12 three-digit numbers, spoken in an ordinary voice, electrically recorded.

The intensity of the voice gradually declines, starting at a low level and going to one just below normal hearing.

The subjects tested are required to write down the numbers they hear. By comparing the recordings of those tested with the numbers actually played by the record, one receives an objective indication of the hearing range of the individual tested.

This tests effectively grades the

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and mawkish and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. A skin often breaks out in blotches. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

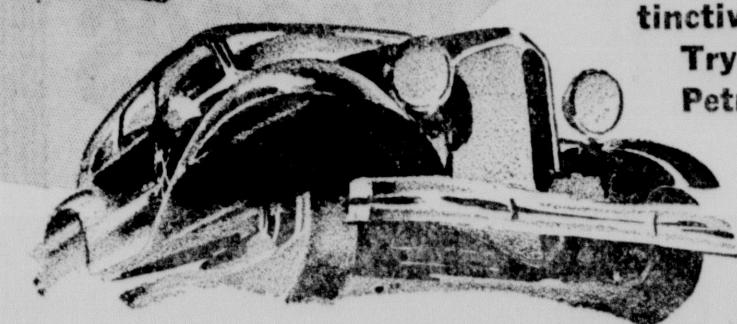

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resort to a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

Income Taxes Explained By Commissioner

DEDUCTION FOR TAX ON MOTOR GAS

If an automobile is used for both business and pleasure, all of the maintenance and operating expenses connected therewith, which constitute allowable deductions for Federal income-tax purposes, should be allocated to the two uses on the basis of the time that it is used for each. For example, if the total expense of operation and maintenance, plus depreciation, for the taxable year amounted to $800, and the car was used three-fourths of the time for business and the balance of the time for pleasure, the allowable deduction for Federal income-tax purposes would be $600.

If a law which imposes a tax on gasoline shows that the tax is imposed on the consumer and not on the dealer, the consumer may deduct as a tax, for Federal income-tax purposes, the amount of the gasoline tax paid by him; but the taxpayer must have kept records of the payment of such taxes in order that the deduction may be substantiated as is required by the law and the regulations. The Federal gasoline tax imposed by section 617 of the revenue act of 1932 is not deductible by the consumer. A taxpayer may ascertain whether the gasoline tax imposed by a State is deductible by the consumer or by the dealer by addressing an inquiry to the collector of internal revenue for his district.

In any case where the gasoline purchased is used for business purposes the tax may be added to the cost of the gasoline and deducted as a business expense; but where that is done, the gasoline tax can not be deducted separately under the item of taxes.

6 MORE DAYS TO PAY INCOME TAX!

Babies cost money — but they help out on federal income tax!

Four hundred dollars deduction from taxable income is allowed for each child under 18, or other dependent who receives his or her "chief support" from the taxpayer. However, under the new law, dependency must be prorated by months; thus, the parent of a baby born in June can claim deduction for only half the year, or $200.

The law does not require that dependents live in the taxpayer's home, but insists that he latter must actually be their "chief means" of support.

A BOOK A DAY

HISTORY OF THE B. E. F.

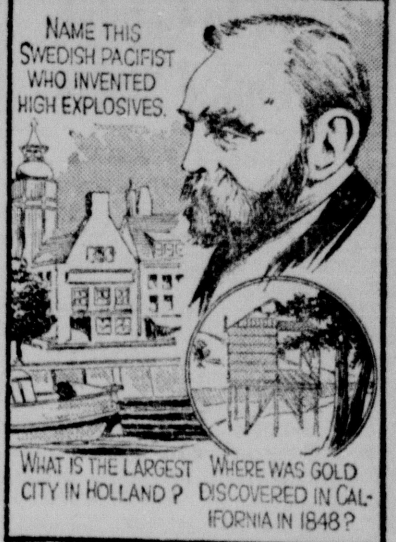

Walter W. Waters, who gained an odd sort of fame, last summer as commander of the "Bonus Expeditionary Force," tells the story of that ill-starred venture in "B. E. F.—The Whole Story of the Bonus Army." It is, quite naturally, a partisan book; but as a sidelight on a particularly sorry chapter in American history it is worth reading.

Waters explains—his story, by the way, was "ghosted" for him by William C. White—how the idea for the bonus march came to him as he paced the streets of Portland, Ore., looking for work. He tells how he organized a little group of ex-servicemen, how they bumbled their way east, how their difficulties with the Baltimore and Ohio railroad at St. Louis focused national attention on them, how they got to Washington, established a makeshift camp and settled down for their intensive campaign of lobbying.

All of this, of course, leads up to the final climax, the dispersion of the B. E. F. by the United States army.

Waters declares that the B. E. F. was already dispersing when the troops were called out. A plan for gradual withdrawal had been put into effect, he says, and if the men had been left alone all but a handful would have been out of Washington in a few weeks. He accuses the government of deliberately trying to provoke a riot, insists that the B. E. F. was not in the least a revolutionary outfit and scoffs at the charge that it contained any sizeable percentage of criminals.

His book, as I say, is partisan and bitter—naturally enough. But you may find it illuminating, as well.

Sidelights In News In Capital Of United States

By HERBERT PLUMMER

WASHINGTON—While the Democrats busied themselves perfecting their organization for the incoming Congress, the Republicans were not entirely idle.

There was for them the prospect that Minority Leader Bertrand Snell would be able to present a solid front at the opening of the special session. The rumors that former Senator James Wadsworth of New York had ambitions to buck his leadership in the next House were denied by Wadsworth himself. With that out of the way, the portly New Yorker has gone his way preparing for an active party opposition in the new Congress.

It wasn't necessary for him to wait a party caucus to get things started. He knew there'd be only a few new Republican faces in the next House so he could go ahead with his ideas as he surveyed the depleted ranks of those on whom he could count for heavy duty.

MANY STALWARTS GONE—

G. O. P. stalwarts for years back in the House were missing from the list. Will Wood of Indiana, Hawley of Oregon, Michener of Michigan, Bachman of West Virginia, Purnell of Indiana, Hauger of Iowa, Johnson of South Dakota—all had gone down to defeat in the Roosevelt landslide.

Each of these men had been a definite and important part of the Republican leadership in the House for a long time. They were the backbone of the G. O. P. organization.

There was nothing for him to do but create new leaders. It became necessary in some instances to disregard the time-honored rule of seniority and place those men accepted by Republicans generally as the most able or forceful in the ranking positions.

In the closing days of the "lame duck" Congress evidence of this new arrangement began to be seen. New faces appeared among those who would be seen in the next Congress, doing the sharp shooting from the committee trenches at Democratic bills when they came up on the floor for debate.

Already many of them were becoming seasoned and ready to continue the fray in the special session.

SET TO GO—

The G. O. P. organization in the House planned, immediately on convening of the new Congress, to start functioning as a campaign unit with an eye first on the congressional election of 1934 and then on the presidential election of 1936.

The organization, it is safe to say, will not overlook the slightest indication of a backward swing of the political pendulum, and any steps on the part of the Democrats will be seized upon promptly, although the need of cooperation to improve present economic conditions may soften the blows somewhat.

MONTGOMERY WARD & CO.

DIXON, ILL.

Now YOU CAN KEEP "BRIDGE HANDS"

Lovely in the Kitchen, Too!

SO MANY women who do their own work feel sensitive about their hands. Especially when they're red or chapped, hands seem unusually conspicuous. And yet it's so simple to keep lovely hands either at the bridge table or in the kitchen!

JUST MAKE this simple test and see for yourself why women everywhere are so enthusiastic about Kemozone Hand Cream.

BEFORE you start your household work, whether it's doing the dishes or "dusting up," press about half an inch of this dainty greaseless cream into the palm of each hand, then rub both hands together until the cream is thoroughly absorbed. Not only will your hands be thoroughly protected from the harsh and drying action of soaps, but softness and loveliness of your skin texture will actually improve.

DR. STONE SAYS PEOPLE'S FAITH IN SELVES LOST

Chicago Preacher In His First Of Three Lenten
Sermons Here

The large audience at the First Methodist church was held spell-bound last night as they listened to the masterly address by Dr. John Timothy Stone on the subject of "Faith." Dr. J. Franklin Young presided at the meeting and his choir had charge of the music. Dr. Stone is using as a basis for his three discourses "Faith," "Hope," and "Love," as found in 1 Corinthians 13:13. His subject for tonight will be "Faith," and tomorrow night it will be "Love." Dr. Stone has a unique way of fitting his statements into the needs of the hour, as were his remarks last night. He began his address by referring to a few scriptures, such as, "without faith it is impossible to please God," and "Looking unto God the author and finisher of our faith." He said in part: The historic faith of our forefathers is filled with thrilling adventures, our present faith on the part of many is an expression of great confidence in humanity and God, but the great need at the present hour is for faith in the future. Regardless of political views every one should stand by our President in this great crisis. Our forefathers had a great foresight and vision and we must create a strong faith in the future based on sound reasoning. The traditions of our fathers based on the principles of right have given us a rich heritage and we should look into the future with great courage. It is not only the bankers who need faith.

We must have faith in ourselves; we have found ourselves insufficient for the problems and we have lost confidence in ourselves. What ever the cause of this may be, one thing is sure, we must have a self reliance, a controlling power over ourselves in our personal interests.

Senators Give Silver to Curtis

and as we are related to others.

We are cooperative agencies and without faith in others we become cynical. It is a universal fact that the man who does not believe in others does not have faith in himself. Without faith in others there is no warm, confidence or trust. The world is not doomed for ruin for there is a great host of men and women who are putting forth every effort to restore confidence. Dishonesty must be brought to the light, exposed and outlawed, and righteousness must be exalted and respected. Theodore Roosevelt said: "Do all the good you can, whenever you can, and with what you have." Every American citizen should heed this statement. The man who has lost faith in his fellowman, his business, his city, his church, is a menace to society. You can always tell a poor fisherman for he is always changing fishing places. We must have faith in God; Faith and confidence will be re-established. We have the resources and when we learn how to use them faith will be strengthened. The test of our faith is discovered in a crisis, amid hard problems. We should strive to be as big as our problems. We must be the master. Our real security is in God, and when we seek God, and rely upon him, faith in ourselves and in our fellowmen will be strengthened. Spiritual values must be recognized. We must seek to see and magnify the virtues in others rather than point out our mistakes. The unattained has always gripped youth and we believe there will be a mighty campaign for righteousness that will lead to faith in ourselves, faith in our fellowman, and faith in God. Dr. Stone will speak at the First Methodist church tonight on the subject of "Faith" at 7:30.

COMPTON NEWS

By Leslie G. Archer
Compton — The Compton Woman's Club will hold its regular March meeting Monday, March 13, at the M. E. church parlors. Miss Marie Rasmussen will be in charge of the meeting. Subject on birds will be the main topic for the evening. All members are urged to be present.

Preceded by a 6:30 banquet the Brooklyn lodge No. 282, A. F. & A. M., celebrated its seventy-fifth anniversary on Inaugural day. The banquet was served by the order of the Eastern Star, in the dining room of the lodge hall here at Compton. In keeping with the day, the tables and walls were cleverly decorated in red, white and blue, with American flags hung from the walls. A photographed picture of President Roosevelt, decorated with American flags also adorned the walls.

In this celebration, the lodge was honored by the presence of Dr. Corbus, the highly reputable physician from Mendota, whose father, John C. Corbus, was the first master of Brooklyn lodge No. 282, A. F. & A. M. The first meeting was held March 4th, 1858, at a farm house one mile from the Melugin settlement, and the lodge was chartered October 6th, of the same year. The lodge moved from the farm house to an old store building in Melugin's Grove, and remodeling it, they held this as their first property. In 1878 the lodge was moved to Compton, in a hall, and remained there until the building was destroyed by fire in 1906. The lodge next rented a home in what is known as the Compton building or the old tavern, at present owned and occupied by Paul Keisler, Sr. In 1914, with the help of the Order of the Eastern Star, they jointly purchased the present hall. During the three quarters of a century, Brooklyn lodge has been governed by thirty-four different masters, twenty-one of the masters still are living.

Stock Market Head at Hearing

The United States was built by speculation and for that reason proper speculation should not be subjected to governmental regulation, Richard F. Whitney, president of the New York Stock Exchange, told members of the Senate stock market investigating committee. He is shown above as he testified.

A complete history, save a few years before the fire of 1906 has been penned by R. P. Thompson, which plans are under way to be printed in book form. Sixty-nine Master Masons assembled at the hall to partake in the commemoration, coming from Mendota, Earlville, Paw Paw, Dixon, and Steward lodges. A. J. Bernardin, president Master, is serving his second year in this capacity.

On Monday evening the Compton Woman's Club held the regular meeting in the M. E. church.

A pot-luck supper was served at 6:30 to club members and their families. F. E. Hanson, representative of the Illinois Northern Utilities Company, gave an excellent talk on communism, likening the communists in their opposition to American government, to white ants, the termites that bore into and gradually destroy the supporting timber of a building. After describing the avowed aims of the communist government in Soviet Russia, Mr. Hansen showed most clearly that communism is not solving the problems of the world, that it merely puts a minority class in control, that it discards, destroys many of the ideals that are old as civilization itself, and finally, that what our country and the world needs at present is not a whole new form of government, but unselfish patriotic people in positions of trust, people of true American ideals in economic leadership, and more high-minded loyal supporters, personally backing up good measures and insisting upon honest, earnest administration of government.

The regular March meeting of the M. E. Ladies Aid will be held at the home of Miss Marie Rasmussen on Wednesday afternoon, March 15th. Besides the regular business meeting, it will be a jolly St. Patrick's party. Those who have their "socks" filled are to hand them in at this meeting.

"Our Gang" reports a hilarious and financially successful penny social on Wednesday evening. The "Dumb Bells" held another fine food sale Saturday with the "Puzzlers" section planning a good time on Thursday evening of this week with a jig saw party at the M. E. church parlors. The public is invited.

Five regulars from the Compton high school basketball squad will play their last game wearing the blue and white in the state district tournament at DeKalb high school gym on Wednesday evening of this week. Coach Ott has shown his ability as a coach, with two regulars back from the past season, he took this year's squad, and rounded them into shape to win five games with nine losses. The team always played a scrappy, speedy game, although woefully lacking in size and slow in getting started this season they ended ed the season by victories. The locals scored 291 points, to their opponents 347. The second team was more successful, winning three and losing four games. They scored 64 points to their opponents 68. Five regulars appearing for the last time Wednesday evening are: Cook, Zinke, Florschuetz, Buchanan and Janssen, and one substitute Johnson. Cook, one of the mainstays on Compton high school's basketball team for the past three years, lead his teammates in the scoring, with 102 points to his credit, with Buchanan second, with 70.

The Go Getters Club of the M. E. Ladies Aid is giving two benefit St. Patrick's parties, Thursday night, March 16th. One party will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Banks, where "500" will be played. Another party will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Miller, with pinocle holding the spot-light for the evening. Prizes will be given for best card players also for best Irish costumes. Wear your green. Irish lunch will be served.

Raymond Guinnip visited over the week-end here with his son John Elliott Guinnip, and returned to his home in Forrest Park Sunday, John Elliott is making his home with Mr. and Mrs. William Chaon.

HEAD OF CHASE NATIONAL BANK HAS BANK PLAN

Proposes Drastic Procedure To Solons

New York, Mar. 9.—(AP)—Wide-eyed Wall Street looked toward Washington today and pondered the legislative chances of Winthrop W. Aldrich's plan to change the set-up in the financial heart of the western world.

Aldrich, who is head of the Chase National Bank, the largest in the world and brother-in-law of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., proposed last night the most drastic program of banking reform that has ever emanated from Wall Street.

Not only would it divorce deposit and investment banking completely, but it would go far beyond even the Glass bill, which hitherto has met much disfavor in Wall Street. One effect would be to curb severely the activities and power of leading private banking firms, notably J. P. Morgan & Company.

It would forbid private bankers to take deposits or to be directors of banks of deposit. Members of the Morgan firm are directors of some of the largest commercial banks of the country and hold important deposits, foreign and domestic.

There was a feeling in some parts of Wall Street today that Congress would give close consideration to the Aldrich proposals. They adopted the spirit of the Glass bill, which advocates the separation of banks and security affiliates, and extended it further.

The program, designed to rid commercial banking of any "spirit of speculation," astonished many in Wall Street. It involves the inclusion of all commercial banks in the Federal Reserve System.

SKY-TOWERS, BLIMP, AND BALLOON OFFER AIR VIEWS OF FAIR

See the 1933 World Fair—and see Chicago—from the sky.

A variety of bird's-eye views will be offered visitors to A Century of Progress.

From the two 625-foot towers supporting the great "Sky Ride," the great thrill feature of the Fair, one will be able to gaze across the blue waters of Lake Michigan to the Michigan shore, or down to the Indiana shoreline to the south, while north, south, and west the busy chimneys of Chicago's myriad industries will rise in endless parade.

Those really air-minded can go much higher for their views. An observation balloon, electrically operated, will carry passengers 1,000 feet into the skies of Chicago. An airship ride is offered by the Good-year Tire and Rubber company in its dirigible Puritan, which will carry six passengers a trip on fifteen minute air tours of the Fair grounds and surrounding areas.

1933 WORLD FAIR ON SOUND BASIS

Ahead of Schedule, Opening on June 1 Is Certain.

Chicago's 1933 World's Fair, "A Century of Progress," will open on June 1, next, exactly as scheduled.

Every building within the exposition grounds will be completed and ready for visitors on opening day.

Every major item of every exhibit will be in place.

These are not vague promises.

On January 1, five months before the opening date, the Fair's construction program was 80 per cent completed.

Already vast buildings covering many acres have risen on the site.

Already nearly a million visitors have enjoyed a preview of the Fair, coming at the rate of more than 5,000 a day.

These multitudes have gone their way to broadcast the marvels already achieved, and yet to come.

Building Ahead of Schedule

Favorable weather through the fall made it possible to place every major exposition building under construction. Eighteen buildings are completed or nearing completion.

Thirteen other major structures are under way. On January 1 nine more were on the schedule for immediate construction, with contracts signed, sites chosen, architects' plans completed and approved, and costs of construction appropriated.

There is an absolute assurance that the programs of these exhibitors will be completed in ample time.

Besides all these projects, about which there is no shadow of a doubt, there are seven more buildings planned that seem assured.

These are the Chinese, Japanese, Netherlands, India, French and Italian buildings and the Belgian village.

Lineup of the Building Program

These are the buildings already completed or nearly completed: Administration, Hall of Science, Chinese Llama Temple, Fort Dearborn group, Lincoln group, General Motors, Chrysler, Travel and Transport, Blue Ribbon Inn, Masonite house, Agriculture, Dairy, Electrical group, Social Science hall, Communications building, and three pavilions of general exhibits.

Building construction already under way before January 1, 1933, included: Sky Ride, Illinois Hotel, Sears Roebuck, Maya temple, Old Heidelberg, Enchanted Island, Horticultural, Federal, and Hall of States buildings, and the Twenty-third street bridge, the north entrance and two pavilions of the General Exhibits building.

The nine buildings for which contracts have been let are the individual structures of the American Radiator and Sanitary corporation, Christian Science Publishing company, Firestone Tire & Rubber company, Johns-Manville corporations, National Poultry council, National Terrazzo and Mosaic association, Religious Exhibit committee, Southern Cypress Manufacturers' association, and Thomas A. Edison, Inc.

On Sound Financial Basis

The World's Fair of 1933 is solvent. Not only solvent to date, but on January 1 there was a cash balance of more than $1,000,000 after all obligations had been met. There is also a continual flow of receipts from exhibitors and other sources to insure full financial responsibility for the whole comprehensive program.

More than 230 of the greatest corporations and associations in the United States have signed contracts aggregating close to $5,000,000 for the purchase of exhibit space in Exposition buildings, or for the erection of special buildings of their own.

Concession contracts exceeding $4,000,000 already have been signed to provide for amusement devices, transportation facilities within the grounds, restaurants, and other features for the comfort and convenience of visitors.

Hearts of Fishes

All fishes have hearts, but in the lowest forms, the heart is reduced to a simple pulsation tube. The heart of a fish is located in the front part of the body, directly behind the neck. It is not necessarily located on the left side, as in mammals, but may be in the middle of the body or on either side.

When Gain Is Loss

What shall it profit, if you have acquired books and have lost the art of reading; acquired influence and lost the joy of usefulness; acquired power and lost the pleasure of service. He that thus gains his life loses it in the gaining. This is an enigma. Ponder it.—Lyman Abbott.

SEVERAL UPSETS MARKED OPENING OF H. S. TOURNEY

Defending Champions Slaughtered By Downers Grove

Chicago, March 9.—(AP)—The defending champion as among the missing as the smoke lifted from the opening district skirmishes in the annual Illinois state high school basketball title race today.

Meeting unbeatable opposition from a team of young giants, Sterling Morton of Cicero, which stormed through to the throne room of Illinois prep basketball last year, fell in its very first title defending start last night before Downers Grove, 35 to 12. The contest wasn't even close.

Led by a giant guard in Renninger, and a husky 200 pound center named Slank, Downers Grove simply massacred the 1932 champs. They grabbed a decisive 20 to 9 lead at half-time, threw up an air tight defense, and coasted in with the upset.

The defeat of the champions provided the high spot in the opening warfare last night but the large crowds that watched the hundreds of games saw action. Perhaps the hardest fought battle was witnessed at the Rushville district where Versailles turned back Littleton, 23 to 22, after four overtime periods. Another stirring fight was staged at Jacksonville where the Illinois School for the Deaf defeated Jacksonville High, 33 to 21, after three extra periods. There were more than a score of one point victories during the night's engagements.

Crest Games at Moline

Fans at Moline saw three of the most exciting games of the year. Three games were played and the combined total point score of the winners was only four points higher than that of the losers. Orlor defeated Reynolds, 18 to 17, and Sherrard added to the thrills by winning a one-point victory over Anover, 30 to 29.

The most one-sided game played at Effingham in which Xenia defeated Dietrich, 40 to 7.

At Monticello, the team representing Sadorous was forced to withdraw because of the illness of one of the players. Deland, paired to meet Sadorous in the first round, was rematched against Monticello tonight.

Most of the larger cities, excepting Moline and Peoria Manual, which fell before East Peoria in another thriller, 17 to 16, came through. Canton, which lost to Sterling Morton in last year's championship finals, does not swing into action until tonight, meeting Farmington.

Sectional Officials

Officials for the sectional tournaments next week were announced today as follows:

At Carbondale — A. C. Serling, Oak Park; Lawrence Rotz, Decatur. At Casey — R. L. Ashley, Riverside; W. Williams, Mt. Vernon.

At Freeport — Donald Karnes, Bloomington; H. H. Sutherland, Bloomington.

At Joliet — J. B. Traynick, Chicago; Milton Forsyth, Mt. Vernon. At Normal — A. J. Bengstrom, Casey; R. W. Gill, Decatur.

At Peoria — Leo Johnson, Decatur; P. E. Harrison, DeKalb.

At Salem — C. M. Osborne, Ia Grange; J. C. Robb, Princeton.

At Springfield — Eddie Jacquelin, Champaign; L. M. Clarno, Chicago.

Officials at the district tournaments last night said they were more than pleased with the turnouts. Some districts reported capacity crowds despite the bank holiday.

PAIN DEADENED CHEST COLDS LOOSENED WITHOUT DRUGS

Get quick relief from neuralgia, pain, sciatica pain, neuritis pain, rheumatic pain, lame back, stiff neck, headache, strains and chest colds by rubbing plenty of Baume Bengue (pronounced Ben-Gay) on the spot. It doesn't blister or stain. Rub it in till it sinks down and soothes the pain or breaks up the chest cold. Take no drugs, for any drug that is powerful enough to "dead" pain or loosen a chest cold may not be good for you.

But beware of imitations. Ask your druggist for Baume Bengue by name (called "Ben-Gay" in English). There are many analgesic balms, mostly cheap imitations of Ben-Gay made out of synthetic drugs. That is why they are cheap. That is also why they are ineffective. Insist on Ben-Gay and you will get real results.

Sox Should Go Big

So Opines J. Louis Comiskey, Chicago Owner, Who Is Rather Large Himself.

J. L. COMISKEY, owner of the Chicago White Sox, goes in a big way for this year's squad. The portly Lou, son of the late owner of the Pale Hose, is shown above, in center, talking over the prospects of the team with his daughter, Dorothy, left, and Mike Donlin, old-time third baseman of the New York Giants, at Pasadena, Calif.

Hooks and Slides

THE BASEBALL SCENE—There is something about the Brooklyn ball club, housed in the Miami-Biltmore, one of the very swankiest of the Florida hotels that is not quite right. The same team used to sleep in a remodeled barn, four in a room, with partitions so thin that you could hear the guy in the next suite wink.

The spring training camp scene has changed materially in the last 15 years. A ball player used to come to camp with one suitcase usually a cheap Gladstone, in half of which he carried his diamond studs, in the other his Sunday shirt.

Certain towns used to pay off the clubs, figuring that publicity, which was expected to attract visitors, was worth it. The baseball writers used to reward this subtle faith by sending in long pieces about the chilly and rainy weather.

TOWN GOT MAD—

In Sarasota, where the Giants trained in 1924, those treasurable articles were clipped and pasted up in the mirror behind the soda fountain in the town's leading drug store. The writer's activities were followed by a threatening parade of the full strength of the Ku Klux Klan. The local paper had an editorial about it.

Once during the height of prosperity the world champion Yankees were offered $35,000 to train in Miami. That was something of a record, the guarantees usually ranging from $15,000 to $25,000 for the privilege of watching the ball players eat with the wrong forks.

All that was changed when the depression came along. Strangely enough, however, the ball players seem better off. Instead of an overstuffed satchel they arrive in camp now with a couple of trunks, one for sports and one for evening wear, and a kit of golfing tools.

NO SHOWERS, BUT BEER—

In the old days there was no menu card in most of the hotels where the ball players were stationed. The athlete ate what he was brought. There was usually one key to all the rooms—and the clerk carried that in his pocket.

There were no showers in the pre-war training hotels. Nearly every hostelry had a bathtub hidden somewhere. But, of course, there was beer. Ball players used to get into condition climbing into upper berths. During the post-war era they favored drawing rooms. Now it begins to appear that pretty soon they are going back up on the shelf.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

A baseball training trip usually costs a major league club from $15,000 to $25,000—but with excursion rates on the railroads this year the cost will be cut down. Receipts for the exhibition game are an important factor—last year the Red Sox drew only $8 at one of their games—but the Yankees have prospered at St. Petersburg, when the teams started north, the owners along the way used to lie awake night waiting for the big leaguers to arrive—now they just yawn when the teams arrive for a game.

SHARPE-SHOOTERS OUT OF TOURNEY; DEFEATED 29-20

Sterling, Lyndon, Morrison, Hoopole Are Victors Last Eve

By Don Hilliker

Dixon high school closed its cage season last night, losing to Sterling in the district tourney at the Sterling Coliseum by a 29-20 score. An early Dixon lead of 6-2 changed to 8-6 at the quarter. Then Sterling pulled into the lead and holding Dixon without a single basket in the final two periods, grabbed the decision.

This defeat leaves Dixon's record at six wins, nine losses. The victories were over Polo, Mendota (twice), Rochelle (twice), and DeKalb. The locals lost to Sterling (three times), Belvidere (twice), Rock Falls (twice), DeKalb and Polo.

Last night's feature game started with a set-up basket by Powell. Strong tossed in a short one to tie the score. A side shot by Henry went through for a Dixon lead of 4-2.
